

The publication: West Coast Editor, Winter 2007

The task: Find and review the ultimate Christmas gifts for editors. Write a description of the gift in 50 words. Also include a holiday-themed blurb about yourself that is less than 17 words.

Pamela Findling (“Gifts to Entertain,” “Gifts to Pamper”) Pamela is gleefully anticipating a month-long high induced by candy cane mochas.

Flower of the month ($$-$$$)

Need a break from the dreary winter view outside? Get monthly or weekly flower deliveries and always have fresh flowers on your desk while you work. Choose from a variety of bouquet styles and price ranges, and don't forget to add on a chocolate treat to indulge your sweet tooth.

Sourced by Pamela Findling at www.flowersonly.com.

Scrabble™ travel set ($$)

Do you delight in playing “zygote” on a triple word square? If so, pick up the folio edition of Scrabble™. The game comes in a snazzy nylon zippered case and features letter tiles that snap in place and stay in place. Now you can refine words wherever you go.

Sourced by Pamela Findling at Coles at Lougheed mall in Burnaby, www.chapters.indigo.ca